

Blackjack Dealer Training Program Frequently Asked Questions

How do I get accepted to attend the Blackjack Dealer Training Program (BDTP)?

You must pass a timed basic math test and an interview to be accepted.

What is the cost of tuition?

The cost of tuition for the Blackjack Dealer Training Program is $350. A $50 deposit is required to reserve your place in the class due one week prior to the class start date. The remaining tuition is payable in two payments of $150 each (payments must be made by Cashier's Check or Money Order). Payments are typically due the first and fifth Monday of the training session.

What is the class schedule?

Classes are Monday through Thursday, 3 hours a day for nine weeks.

Will I get a job as a Dealer at Northern Quest Resort and Casino when I complete the class?

After four weeks through the program you will audition and if you are successful you will be offered a job at this time (most openings are usually part time or on call to start out). You will then complete the remaining weeks of the program depending on the successful completion of all pre-employment and class requirements.

How do I get a gaming license and how much does it cost?

Gaming licensing will be your responsibility if a casino hires you. The cost varies from $204 to $266 in the State of Washington.

What games will I learn at the school?

If selected to attend our training program, you will be trained to deal Blackjack, Spanish 21, Three Card Poker, Pai-Gow Poker and Ultimate Texas Hold'em.
